Day 02 – Bangalore

Tipu Sultan's Palace At Bangalore

Bangalore

The capital of the southern state of Karnataka, Bangalore today is Asia's fastest growing cosmopolitan city. It is home to some of the most high tech industries in India. It is blessed with a salubrious climate, gardens and parks. With up-market shopping malls and the best restaurants and pubs in this part of the globe, Bangalore is the ideal gateway to India.

Day 03 – Hassan

Statue Of The Jain Saint Gommateshwara

Shravanabelgola

Shravanabelagola is one of the most important Jain pilgrim centres of India. The statue of the Jain saint Gommateshwara (AD 981) carved out of a mountain, is one of the tallest and most graceful statues in the world. The colossal monolithic statue is 58 ft high, with 26 ft wide shoulders and feet that are 10-ft wide. Nearly 1,800 years old, the statue is reached by climbing 700 steps carved in the steep granite slope, is symbolic of the renunciation of worldly possessions.

Day 04 – Coorg

Sculptures At Chennakeshwara Temple

Halebid

The temples of Halebid bear mute testimony to the rich, cultural heritage of Karnataka. The Hoysaleswara Temple, dating back to the 12th century, is astounding for its wealth of sculptural details. The walls of the temple are covered with an endless variety of gods and goddesses, animals, birds and dancing girls. The Jain basadis nearby are equally rich in sculptural detail.

Belur

A quaint hamlet with unforgettable, exquisite temples located on the banks of the River Yagachi that was once the capital of the Hoysala Empire. The Chennakeshava Temple took 103 years to complete and its facade is filled with intricate sculptures and friezes of elephants, episodes from the epics and sensuous dancers. The Veeranarayana Temple and the smaller shrines are well worth visiting.

Day 05 – Coorg

Fields Of Sunflowers At Coorg

Coorg

Coorg is located at about 3500 ft above sea level on the slopes of the Western Ghats, set amidst verdant valleys, imposing mountains and forests, this is one of the most beautiful hill stations you can visit in India. Coorg is unique with scenic beauty, lush green valleys, coffee plantations, teak wood forests and majestic mountain ranges.

Many trekking routes travel through misty hills, lush forest, acres of tea and coffee and orange groves with breathtaking views.

Beautiful Misty Mountains At Coorg

Day 06 – Nagarhole National Park

Indian Tiger At Nagarhole

Nagarhole National Park

This enchanting 247 square-mile park was an exclusive hunting reserve of the former rulers of Mysore and has recently been renamed 'Rajiv Gandhi National Park'. Gentle slopes and shallow valleys adorn this lovely southern jungle of India. Huge herds of Asian Elephants flock here together and the park boasts a healthy Tiger-predator ratio. Tiger, Bison and Elephant are much denser here than in other jungles. Other mammals include Jackal, Leopard, Gaur, Muntjac, Sambar and Spotted Deer with males displaying large antlers.

Among reptiles, the Marsh Crocodile, Monitor Lizard, Rock Python, King Cobra and several other species can be found. Aquatic and terrestrial Tortoises, Tree Frogs and a myriad insects, including some very colourful Butterflies.

Day 07 – Nagarhole National Park

Indian Elephant In The Nagarhole Jungles

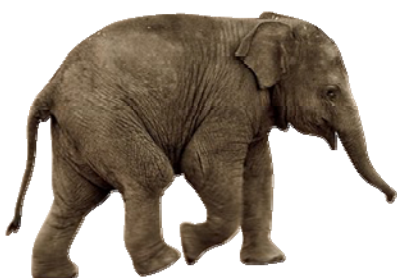

Nagarhole National Park

The forests of South India contain about 20% of the world's entire stock of Asian Elephants. During summer there is the fine spectacle of the annual elephant migration to the Kabini Lake at Nagarhole. This is probably the best place in India to witness overwhelming numbers of wild elephants all in one place during this time.

Wildlife safari's are uniquely possible at Nagarhole by jeep and by boat on the lovely Kabini Lake.

Delightful Jungle Hare At Nagarhole

Day 09 – Mysore

Temple On Chanmudi Hill

Mysore

Mysore is situated at the base of Chanmudi Hill. A lovely road runs to the summit with a panoramic view at 800ft above the city. At dusk, the view of the city is especially beautiful, and on Sunday evenings and during the Dasara festival, the illuminated Mysore Palace glitters like gold. Half way up is a huge sculpture of the Nandi Bull.

Lalitha Mahal is the second largest palace in Mysore, built by Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV in the year 1921 for the exclusive stay of the Viceroy Of India. The palace is pure white in colour and is built in the style of Italian palazzo with twin Ionic columns and domes.

Mysore also has an interesting collection of night and day markets selling spices and famous Mysore silk sarees.

Day 10 – Goa Beach Stay

Arossim Beach

Goa

The legendary beach destination of South Asia is a heady mix of long sweeping beaches, "sosegado" or a laid back lifestyle and carnival-like nightlife fuelled by relaxed attitudes and a very Western outlook due to Goa's Portuguese influences.

At the outset it is important to decide which part of Goa you wish to stay. Head to North Goa for nightlife, with bars and restaurants lining the streets and beaches with a cosmopolitan mix of holidaymakers. Famous beaches of North Goa include Candolim, Calangute and Anjuna.

South Goa is very much the place to go for luxury resort hotels and quiet hours of relaxation on long, sandy uncrowded beaches like Varca and Colva.

The cuisine in Goa is exceptional. Dishes include local crab, fresh oyster, king prawns and typical Goan delicacies like Chicken Rechão and Xãcuti. The local brews, like cashew and coconut "Feni" with their strong aroma, are definitely not for the faint of heart. If you visit in the right season, you can sample the local "Urak", a lighter and sweeter-smelling distillate of Feni.
